FOR KENTUCKY—Probably
local showers and colder Tuesday.

Mr. Bryan is now in Porto Rico as the guest of the Governor.

The Fulton Leader and Commercial have been consolidated with Mott Ayers at the head of the new company.

Daniel Monarch, aged 35, was found dead from a pistol shot, in his room at Owensboro, under circumstances indicating suicide.

Three men lost their lives when the German Balloon Pommern, after colliding on shore with wires and a smokestack, was swept out to the Baltic Sea.

The Diggs bill for the disfranchisement of negroes was passed by the Maryland House of Delegates and now goes to the Governor for his signature.

Hubert le Blon, the French aviator, was killed Saturday while making an exhibition flight at San Sebastian, Spain. He was circling the royal palace when the mechanism of his aeroplane broke down and the machine fell on the rocks of the seashore. Le Blon was dashed to pieces.

The new automobile of L. C.
Willis, a well known Shelbyville attorney, driven by his daughter, Miss Josephine Willis, while making a turn, backed off a 25 foot embankment, a mile west of Shelbyville and four of the five occupants were injured. The injuries of Miss Clay Willis, aged 13, will probably prove fatal.

In the entire Second Kentucky congressional district there will be but one colored census enumerator. This announcement is made on the authority of Judge A. H. Anderson, of this city, the district supervisor.
The only negro enumerator is W.
C. Davis, of this city, who will canvass the Fifth ward of Hopkinsville, which is made up almost altogether of colored people.

Prince Lidi Yeassu, who succeeds King Menelik to the throne of Abyssinia, is the grandson of the deceased King, the son of Ras Micheal who married Menelik's daughter, Waizoro. Nearly a year ago Menelik proclaimed this Prince to be his heir presumptive. The Prince is a young man, about 18 years old. There will be no serious interference with the accession of Lidi Yeassu. In addition to being the King's grandson, and the designated heir, he is married to the granddaughter of the late Emperor John II. His grandfather claimed to be a lineal descendant of King Solomon.

Armed with bench warrants issued by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, special agents of the Department of Justice Saturday morning simultaneously raided brokers' offices known as "bucket shops" in New York, Philadelphia, Jersey City, Baltimore, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Conspiracy indictments, in which twenty-nine persons are named—five of them said to be millionaires, and all interested in brokers' offices in large cities of the United States, were returned by the Federal grand jury of the District of Columbia upon evidence which agents of the Department of Justice had been gathering for more than a year.

Former President Roosevelt will not visit the Pope, owing to a note from the Vatican received at Cairo that he must not cause a complication by an act similar to that of former Vice President Fairbanks. This resulted in a second note, in which Mr. Roosevelt stated he would do as he pleased. He will reach Rome today and be received by the king.

A meeting was held at the Taber-

For Nervous Children.

A naturally nervous child, one who has been pampered, should early be taught self-control and the value of it.
It is essential to discourage emotionalism and never contenance fits of temper. Plenty of fresh air and sunlight are great aids to naturally nervous children, and all rich foods should be forbidden.

German Beauty Spot.

Helligandamm-Gelbensande, north Germany, with its splendid forest stocked with game of all sorts, including wild boars, lies about 35 miles eastward beyond Rastock. The architecture of the Jagdhaus is exactly in keeping with its sylvan surroundings, and is one of the handsomest and most attractive structures of its kind ever built.

Life and Licensed Anarchy.

In all things below the range of genius it is foolish to talk in universal terms. Whim is just enough good for the small matters of every day; and life has large areas of licensed anarchy where truth cannot reach as far as your next door neighbor.—Frank Moore Colby.

Our Government.

Of our system of government the first thing to be said is that it is really and practically a free system.
It originates entirely with the people, and it rests on no other foundation than their assent.—Daniel Webster.

THE NEW COLONEL.

How Grant Proved Himself to Be a Master of Men.

When Captain Grant, formerly of the regular army, was appointed colonel of an Illinois regiment in place of Colonel Goode, John A. Logan while escorting him to the camp said: "Colonel, the regiment is a little unruly. Do you think you can manage the boys?"

"I think I can," replied Grant.
Logan and McClelland, two congressmen, made patriotic speeches, and Logan, after a two hours' oration, led forward a quiet man in plain citizen's clothes, saying:

"Allow me to present to you your new commander, Colonel U. S.
Grant."
"Most of the soldiers observed him for the first time," writes Hamlin Garland, from whose "Life of Grant" we have quoted. "They were astonished and disappointed." Grant looked like a grave country doctor. But he showed that he could manage the "unruly boys." There were loud calls: "Grant!
Grant! A speech!" Their late colonel used to "orate" before them. The new colonel stepped two paces toward them and said in a clear, calm voice:

"Men, go to your quarters!" If an eight inch shell had exploded in their ranks the "boys" would not have been more surprised, but they went to their quarters. There was that in the new colonel's voice which expressed command. The tone was not loud, but it was given with a clear cut inflection which showed him a master of men.

That evening at dress parade as he stepped to the center of the regiment, wearing no uniform save a pair of gray trousers with a stripe running down the outside seams and an old sword, the men jested in low voices about their new commander.

Colonel Goode, the late colonel, not infrequently used the daily parade as an occasion to make a speech, and the men expected one from Grant. The line officers advanced, and the adjutant saluted.

"A soldier's first duty is to learn to obey his commander. I shall expect my orders to be obeyed as exactly and as instantly as if we were on the field of battle."

That was all he said. As the men marched back to quarters a private asked: "What do they mean by sending down a little man like him to command this regiment? He can't pound dry sand in a straight hole."

"He can't make a speech. Look at the clothes he wears. Who is he anyhow?"

"Boys," retorted a sergeant, "I'll tell you who he is. He's the colonel of this regiment, as you'll find, and don't you forget it."

The sergeant was a prophet. The regiment had obtained all the liquor it wished for. Grant stopped that.
A man resisted arrest.

"What's the matter?" asked Grant of the officer of the day.
"The man persists in bringing liquor into camp and refuses to give it up."

"Put him in the guardhouse."
"He refuses to go."

Grant stepped up to him, seized him by the collar and jerked him outside of the camp gate. "Get out of my regiment," he said. "You are not worth disciplining. If you come back I'll have you shot!" A big, dangerous man named Mexico was tied up with a score of others for leaving camp without permission. "For every minute I stand here I'll have an ounce of your blood," said he to the colonel.

"Gag him!" said Grant.

One by one as the hours passed the other offenders were released by the officers of the guard. Grant released Mexico himself. The bully saw that his colonel was his master, and the regiment began to find out that it had a colonel.

The Rich Uncle.

He (desperately)—Tell me the truth. Is it not my property that stands between us?

She (sadly)—Y-o-s.

He (with a ray of hope)—I admit that I am poor, and so, unfortunately, is my father, but I have an aged uncle who is very rich and a bachelor. He is an invalid and cannot long survive.

She (delightedly)—How kind and thoughtful you are! Will you introduce me to him?—New York Weekly.

The Duffer's Record.

Mark Allerton in London M. A. P. tells this story from the golf links: A duffer inquired of his wearied caddie, "How many's that, Sandy?" The caddie replied: "Ye're playin' yer ninth. Ye tappit it aff the tee in yin, ye missed it a'thegither in twa, went intae the bunker in three. Ye didna get oot in four, but ye got oot in five. Ye gaed intae the whins in sax, ye didna get oot in seven. But ye got oot in acht, and nbo yer playin' yer ninth."

Tooth
Hints!

"When ought we to go to the Dentist?"

Many think it unnecessary to devote particular attention to the teeth until the mouth is affected by broken or decayed teeth. Others give their teeth no attention until pain compels them. Every one who thinks a moment on the subject knows that we cannot masticate our food satisfactorily, if one of the teeth is tender, inflamed or otherwise out of order, and that if this be the case, the mouth requires immediate attention.
